BACKGROUND

Daniella graduated in Law from Lancaster University and completed the BPC at the University of Law. She previously completed mini-pupillages at other London Chambers. While studying, she was a student adviser and advocate under the ULaw Litigation Programme, advising, preparing and assisting litigants in person, primarily on children matters at East London Family Court.

Daniella worked at Advocate as the Lead Criminal Caseworker and prior to this, volunteered there as a casework intern. Her role involved drafting summaries, creating bundles and advocating for cases to be taken on by barristers. Prior to this, she was a volunteer advisor at Lancaster University's Immigration & Asylum Law Clinic, which included interviewing clients on sensitive matters and conducting legal research. She also volunteered at North Lancashire Citizens Advice.
